Following this, the body will be forwarded via the Katy Limited to the old family home at Johnston, Pa. for interment. Mr. and Mrs. Koch will accompany the body.

Hans Schmidt Case Submitted.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The fate of Hans Schmidt, the former Catholic priest under sentence of death for the murder of Anna Ammiller in New York in 1913, now rests with the court of appeals. Arguments for and against a new trial were made before that body today. A decision is not expected for several weeks. Should the court rule against Schmidt his next recourse will be an appeal for executive clemency to Governor Whitman, who as district attorney of New York prosecuted the case.

KATY TRAIN ROBBED BY DARING BANDITS

EIGHT MEN HOLD UP SOUTH-BOUND LIMITED AT LITTLE STATION IN OKLAHOMA.

LITTLE LOOT IS OBTAINED

Passengers, Awakened by Explosions, Told That Night Air Is Unhealthy.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 27.—The uninhabited fastnesses of the Kiamichi hills, in the far southeastern corner of Oklahoma, the rendezvous of bandit gangs since the frontier days, are tonight believed to be holding safe from all pursuit five of the eight men who early today held up the southbound limited train of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad at Onapah, 27 miles south of Muskogee.

Three of the bandits are thought to be in Texas, having ridden directly to Muskogee after the robbery and having boarded another Katy train here. One of them is said to be injured, his right ear lacerated by an explosion which wrecked one of the express safes. He and his two comrades, officers declare, came to Muskogee early today, boldly summoned a physician who dressed his wound and disappeared.

Posses that throughout the day have been following winding trails through the woods that skirt the railroad, returned tonight. They brought back with them five bottles of whiskey, picked up along the roadway. Officials of the express company say the bottles of wine of the safes the bandits opened.

Loot Believed Small.

While express company officers declare the loot obtained was small it is believed that the robbers made away with several thousand dollars. A report from McAlester places the amount at $60,000 money being rushed to Texas for the purchase of cotton.

Descriptions of the men, which have been sent broadcast throughout the southwest tally with those of members of a lawless band who for the past ten years have been sought for the wholesale looting of banks and the robbing of trains in eastern Oklahoma.

The bandits worked with a cunning and a bravado that places them, in the minds of railroad detectives, as men skilled in outlawry. They possessed a wit that was almost irresistible.

Passengers, aroused by the explosions when the safes were blown, hastily donned apparel and rushed to the train. One passenger, clad only in a pair of trousers and speaking with an eastern accent, could not control his curiosity.

Bandits Possessed Wit.

"Don't step into the night air," a robber warned him. "There's malaria in it and this is the Oklahoma you've read about."

"You boys will get paid overtime for this," was the solace given the train crew by the bandit who stood guard over them.

A bright moon lit the scene almost as if it were day. "We time our robberies by the almanac," one of the men told Conductor Chambers.

It was nearly 7 o'clock when a special train brought officers from Muskogee to the scene. Bloodhounds from the state penitentiary at McAlester arrived at about the same time. The dogs quickly took the trail and followed it through the woods for half a mile.

There it ended. Broad wagon tracks began where the footprints stopped. All day the posse, not knowing in what direction to turn, scoured the countryside and kept guard at all river fords and ferries without result. Tonight they returned home.

J. W. McClure, McIntosh county sheriff, and a handful of men kept up the search the pursuit had ended.

Officers worked all day upon the theory that three of the bandits, Kansas and Texas limited at Onapah, Okla., early this morning boldly rode into Muskogee at a little after 7 o'clock and are now hiding in the city or have boarded a Katy train for San Antonio, Texas.

Physician Called Upon.

Dr. D. M. Randel was summoned from his bed this morning by a man who declared he had been injured and asked immediate aid. The physician arrived in his office where he met a man, apparently a rancher, wearing high top boots and a broad brimmed hat. The man's right ear was injured, lacerated and the ear drum injured.

At night, he told the doctor and a branch of a tree had struck him on the side of the head.

Dr. Randel told the man that his injury resembled a powder wound but the man only repeated his story. He refused to be taken to a hospital. The physician told the police that he had noticed revolvers of large calibre strapped to the man's breast underneath his coat.

The man paid his bill with a large roll of bills which he drew from a side pocket of his coat. He asked Dr. Randel to recommend an eye specialist in San Antonio and departed. The physician followed him into the hallway.

Another man, similarly dressed, stood just outside his office door and a third man stood at the head of the stairway.

It was some time afterwards that the physician, picking up a morning newspaper, learned of the robbery. He immediately reported his experience to the police.

Little Money Taken.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 27.—Virtually no money was taken by the bandits who robbed a southbound Katy train in Oklahoma early today, according to officials at headquarters of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company of Texas tonight. Packages which the bandits probably thought were currency were vouchers and cannot be cashed.

Priceless Fresco Demolished.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 27.—An examination of the famous Scagli church in Venice which suffered in the recent raid on the city by aircraft, shows that the first bomb fell in the left nave. It demolished two beams and pierced the ceiling, which was entirely destroyed by the second bomb. Not a foot of Tiepolo's magnificent fresco remains intact and it is considered virtually impossible to restore even a small part of the masterpiece.

Tells of Borrowing Without Collateral

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Jared Y. Sanders, former governor of Louisiana, against whom a writ was issued today in the trial of C. B. Munday, charged with conspiracy in connection with the collapse of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, said today that he had borrowed money from the bank without collateral.

Mann Urges Preparedness.

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Preparedness for national defense, preservation of home industries and control of the world markets were urged as duties of the United States by Congressman James R. Mann, minority leader of the house, in an address before the Chicago Chamber of Commerce today. "We are at a crisis of the world's history," he said. "It is time to forget our partisanship, yield much of our party affiliation and appreciate the nation's needs and the country's opportunities."

An Easy Way to Increase Weight

GOOD ADVICE FOR THIN FOLKS
The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunts, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to regulate the digestive tract and assimilate the food you eat. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. Real results are obtained when this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, bulges about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

He added that the soldiers were being inflamed against Americans.

Skillful Work of British Submarine

By The Associated Press.
London, Oct. 28, 3:13 A. M.—A story of the sinking of the German armored cruiser Prinz Adalbert, just received from Copenhagen, pays an enthusiastic tribute to the skillful work of the British submarine, inasmuch as the cruiser was especially protected against submarine attack by an accompanying flotilla of torpedo boats.

The attack occurred twenty-five miles west of Libau, when the cruiser was returning from a voyage in the Gulf of Finland.

The fact that so few of the Prinz Adalbert's crew were saved was due in part, according to this account, to a panic which seized the torpedo craft, all of which fled at top speed, alarmed by the amazing violence of the explosion and fearing further attacks. No attempt was made to attack the submarine.

DALLAS AUTO DRIVER CLEARLY STATES CASE

Glad to Have Desired to Learn of "Tanlac."

Mr. J. B. Moore, a well known and popular jitney driver of Dallas, now endorses Tanlac.

"I suffered from a severe pain in my right arm and shoulder, which I am convinced was rheumatism. There seemed to be a lack of circulation in my right arm and I had a painful dull feeling therein. At times I was unable to crank my car and could not sleep at night. A friend of mine who had used Tanlac recently, suggested that I try the new preparation and I secured a bottle and began taking it regularly.

"To my great astonishment the pains in my shoulder and upper arm began to shift and work downward and now I am free from all rheumatic pains and suffer no inconvenience whatever. Tanlac has rescued me to enjoy my night's rest and I feel so relieved that the dreadful pain in my arm and shoulder has gone.

"I live at 4312 Bryan Street, Dallas, Texas, and have used nearly two bottles of Tanlac and I intend to continue to use it until my system is thoroughly cleansed of all impurities. I shall be glad to have you refer anyone to me and I will go into details in connection with what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac will continue to be explained at W. B. Morrison's Drug Co.

Double Funeral Is Held at Marlin

Special to the Morning News.

Marlin, Oct. 27.—The first double funeral held in Marlin since 1909 was conducted yesterday afternoon, when the bodies of Matilde Medrano and little child, occupying one casket, and the body of Mercedes Martinez in another, after services at the Catholic church, were interred in the Marlin cemetery.

Matilde Medrano, age 18, died with the birth of her child, which lived but a few minutes. On hearing the news, Mercedes Martinez, aged 85, the grandmother of Matilde, died from the shock. The family lived on A. T. Kyser's place east of Marlin.

The last double funeral in Marlin occurred in 1909, when the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Traylor were interred, the husband dying a few hours after the death of the wife.

EPISCOPALIANS VOTE TO SEND DELEGATES TO PANAMA CONGRESS

BOARD OF MISSIONS IN SESSION IN NEW YORK REACH DECISION AFTER TWO DAYS OF SPIRITED CONTROVERSY—WILL HAVE NO POWER OF COMMITTING BODY.

QUARTERLY MEETING ADJOURNS

No Action Is Taken Regarding Resignation of Five Members—Bishop Miller Indicates Fight Will Be Carried Further—Will Not Return to the Board.

By The Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 27.—The board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal church, after a spirited controversy lasting two days, today voted to send seven delegates to the Panama Interdenominational Missionary congress to be held in February. The controversy developed around the purpose of the congress and the action of the Roman Catholic church in declining to participate.

After a long series of arguments today the board passed a resolution that it "shall be the purpose of the Panama congress to recognize all elements of truth and goodness in any form of religious faith" and also stating that the Episcopal board delegates will attend the congress with "no purpose, authority or power of committing the board to cooperation."

The Right Rev. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, offered a resolution stating the purpose of the Panama congress as understood by the board, but not embodying any instructions to delegates. This brought forth considerable opposition and in the discussion which followed it developed that the main objection among members of the Protestant Episcopal church to the Panama congress was not based upon the fact that the Roman Catholic church had declined to participate, but upon a question of whether or not the board had authority to authorize a conference with delegates from a board or boards of other denominations.

It was decided that the board could send delegates to confer with representatives of other denominations but that the delegates could not take part in any legislation upon ecclesiastical questions, nor co-operate in any way upon missionary plans.

No Action on Resignation. The quarterly meeting of the board adjourned without taking any action upon the resignations tendered by five prominent members yesterday and the board, voting two to one, defeated a motion to rescind the resolution passed at the last meeting favoring participation at Panama. Efforts to cause the five men to reconsider their action were made without success throughout the day.

The five members in question were the Rt. Rev. Reginald H. Weller, bishop of Fond du Lac, Wis.; the Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding, bishop of Washington, D. C.; the Rev. Dr. Wm. T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York City; the Rev. G. Mott Williams, bishop of Marquette, Mich.; and the Very Rev. Selden P. Delany of Milwaukee, Wis. The first three men did not attend today's meeting. Bishop Williams and the Rev. Mr. Delany attended the meeting but they are not voting members and took little part in the discussions. All bishops of the church are ex-officio members of the board but only those elected by the general convention of the church have voting power.

Bishop Weller spent several hours in the church mission house, where the meeting was held, and gave out a statement in which he declared a special convention of the house of bishops of the Episcopal church might be called in an effort to prevent the board from participating in the Panama congress and making what he termed a direct attack against the Roman Catholic church. He said he would not consider returning to the board until "the principles shown at the present meeting were materially altered."

Nelson Leads Opposition.

In the absence of the three leaders of the opposition to the congress, the contest for specific instruction and limitation of the powers of the delegates was led today by the Rt. Rev. Richard H. Nelson, bishop of Albany, N. Y., who announced yesterday that

FRIENDS THOUGHT COULD NOT LIVE

Alice Wilson Was Unconscious Hours at a Time and Mind a Blank.

A startling statement was made recently by Mrs. Alice Wilson, wife of Charles E. Wilson, who resides at No. 127 Fortieth street, Pittsburgh, Pa., regarding Plant Juice, the great system tonic. She said:

"If anyone knows what stomach trouble is, it is surely myself. For the past three years I have suffered from severe pains; at times I would become so bad that I was unconscious for hours at a time and my mind would fail me for days—a perfect blank. My circulation would almost stop, and my hands and feet would become cold and clammy. Food would not lie on my stomach and I was compelled to subsist on liquids and a very light diet. I lost flesh and my weight was reduced from 136 to 143 pounds. My neighbors did not expect me to live and gave me up to die. My husband, who was employed at the Clark Mills, brought me home a bottle of Plant Juice. Before I had used one-half of it I began to feel better and my strength to return. I have used Plant Juice now for the past five weeks and want to state publicly that I have entirely regained my health. I can eat any kind of food, am perfectly cured and have not an ache or pain in my entire body. I am doing all of my household work for the first time in the past eight years and am so happy that I sing from joy for I am a well woman once more—entirely cured—and I give all praise for same to Plant Juice. I am recommending your medicine to all of my friends."

Such words as these are being received every day from enthusiastic users of Plant Juice who have been cured from ailments of long standing and are only too glad to lend their names in testimonial thereof.

Plant Juice is sold in Waco at W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store, while he was in full sympathy with the members who resigned he intended to "stay and fight to a finish." It was largely through his efforts that the board added to Dr. Mann's resolution the statement that the delegates will attend the Panama congress solely for conference.

The resolution concerning sending the delegates as adopted stated that the Episcopal board understood the purposes of the Panama congress were:

To be along the same general lines as the Edinburgh conference of 1910. That it was not to be a gathering for legislation on ecclesiastical questions or even on matters of missionary policy.

That it shall be the purpose of the congress to recognize all the elements of truth and goodness in any form of religious faith and that its approach to the people was neither critical nor antagonistic but was to be a gathering and examples of Jesus Christ.

That all communions and organizations which accept Jesus Christ as divine savior and Lord and the holy scriptures of the Bible and New Testament and whose purpose is to promote the will of Christ prevail in Latin-America, are cordially invited.

MISS DECCA LAMAR WEST HOSTESS IN DALLAS

Miss Decca Lamar West is on a round of visits, being now in Dallas, to serve as one of the out-of-town hostesses in the "Made in Texas" department at the Dallas fair. Mrs. West lingers a few days, guest of Mrs. Fred Fleming, chairman in chief of the "Made in Texas" display. On her way home, Miss Lamar West is hostess in Corsicana. The present plan is that Miss Lamar West comes for the opening of the Cotton Palace as guest of Miss West, the two leaving on Monday for the State Federation of Women's clubs in Brownwood.

MISS LIL HARRISON BRIDE IN FORT WORTH

Not formally announced yet is the coming marriage of Miss Lil Harrison to William Griffin in Fort Worth, but personal friends have known the secret for some time. Miss Harrison visits Miss Ella Fiewelly, and is a Waco girl by birth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrison, for many years resident here, she is still regarded a Wacoan. The mother, active so long in the floral society in the Presbyterian church, and socially, was one of the influential women in this city's civic growth. No date is set for the wedding, but this is expected before the holidays.

NEWS FROM MRS. HOLDERMAN SCORES A TRIUMPH.

One of the recent papers from Fremont, Ohio, gives account of wonderful victory scored by the women of Fremont. This is, in securing fund sufficient to erect a Memorial hospital for the county. Lacking three hundred dollars, the women raised a cool one hundred thousand. Mrs. Holderman was active among former Fremonters. When the general chairman was escorted to state with Mrs. Holderman on one side, great were the cheers. The paper gave front page to the noble work of the women and stated that, when the hospital was erected every brick would be memorial of some sacrifice and that the institution, which would not only be a place for the afflicted, but a memorial to the united brotherhood of man who had worked so worthily towards this end.

EMERSON CLUB MEETS FOR AFTERNOON MUSICALS

With Mrs. J. W. Holloway special hostess and no less than twenty-five special guests, the Emerson club enjoyed a fine arts program during Tuesday afternoon. The authors under study were Chaminade and Mendelssohn. Biographical sketches were given by Mrs. Carl Reiser and Mrs. N. S. Hill.

Piano numbers were rendered by Mrs. W. P. Lyles, little Miss Shirley Gage, Miss Zoe Fitzhugh and Miss Lucile Jackson. The concert was given by Sam Clayton, violin by Mrs. Walter Rathell, voice by Mrs. Charles Atkins and Miss Ruth Buchanan, with reading by Miss Nellie Lee Hill. Not only enjoyment of amateur artists, but the social feature was prominent with Mrs. Holloway, who served refreshments as her last courtesy to Emersons and guests.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ARMSTRONG

Considering that she was hostess for the first time to the Woman's club, Mrs. A. J. Armstrong broke the bread of hospitality in bringing the literary program to a luncheon plate close, and in introducing two guests, her mother, Mrs. Maxwell, and Mrs. J. E. Hall, a new acquisition into Baylor circles. The formal paper of the afternoon was read by Mrs. J. D. Willis. More than the usual interest is entering new subject. The Mesdames J. E. Boynton and Armstrong entered freely into discussion of culture and what the several nations have contributed thereto. Mrs. J. L. Kesler, delegate, and Mrs. A. E. Wells, alternate, were elected to represent the club at Brownwood. Mrs. Boynton reported for the committee to devise plan for the Woman's club entrance into the Cotton Palace woman's parade. New members for the new season were welcomed.

CURRENT EVENT CLUB HAS UNIQUE PROGRAM

Proving quite the unique result, the Current Event club followed the "Made in Waco" slogan at the season with Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson. The committee on program provided a roll call response on "Made in Waco" products. This elicited telephone messages from several members of the local factories for information; result, several surprise gifts for the club. A case of "Circle A" from the Artesian Bottling works, boxes of sweets from the Rotan factory, several of the "Helle of Waco" flour, all were presented and enjoyed. The paper of the afternoon was read by Mrs. Mordis Falkner. Mrs. Minnie Carroll King was elected delegate to the State federation. Mrs. Hutchinson had guests other than club members, the Mesdames Charles Torian, Macpherson of Denver, Jennie Meyer, E. L. Christman and J. J. Durham. Thus, the made-in-Waco products reached more than the Current Event club. The club will enter an automobile into the woman's parade for the Cotton Palace.

WORD OF REMINDER TO SOCIETY MEN.

It may seem the subject trivial to say to young men that they owe it to the city not to fill dance programs for Cotton Palace balls. It is, however, no insignificant subject. Almost every home in the city is to have guests. Some of these are old friends returned, some are to receive their first impression of Waco social life. Many of these are from exclusive society circles of other states; many more are from our own city. What impression are these to have? It is the responsibility of the men of Waco to decide. This filling of dance programs in advance is a menace to this impression. We do not for one moment advocate depriving the young men of engagements with their favorite girl friends. But we do echo the formal request of the Comorian, the Society ball, and other committees, when we say it is the duty of every single man who appears with a dance program for Cotton Palace season to reserve four or six dances until he is on the colosseum floor. This means he can then meet visitors, show attention, make each feel that her presence is noted, and make each hostess feel that her guest has been recognized. Cotton Palace season is a community affair, not a selfish thing. Men of this city, in this small sacrifice, can do a great deal towards maintaining Waco's reputation for whole-souled hospitality. Will they do it?

And women of Waco, you, too, can

"Bolling Green" and "Galt Brown"

The Newest Colors Are Named in Honor of President Wilson's Fiancee.

Mrs. Norman Galt, who is soon to be the "first lady of the land," is the most talked-of woman in America just now; and it is quite appropriate that the new colors should be named in her honor. The new Brown bears her present name, Galt; the latest shade of Green has been christened with her maiden name, Bolling. Like all other new and desirable things, these colors are to be found at Goldstein-Miguel's, of course. We show both shades in handsome Gros de Londres and Taffeta Silks, and in Wool Poplins, Eplingies, Gabardines and Serges.

do a small part in this. How? Simply by asking each man who desires a dance engagement in advance to withhold consent until assured that he is making reservation of dances for strangers. Remember, there is no Philo ball this season; hence, society will depend upon the Cotton Palace. Let us impress the visitors that we are in the high degree of social form and live up to our city reputation for welcome to the stranger.

MRS. ELLA ROUNSAVALL IS RECENT DINNER HOSTESS

From Winchester, Kentucky, comes account of an event which will be heard with keen interest by scores of friends to Mrs. Ella Rounsavall within this city. The event is a brilliant dinner party tendered by Mrs. Rounsavall to a Winchester bride. Notable among the guests was a cousin of this bride, Mrs. Maurey of Anniston, Alabama, who is on her way to attend the wedding of her sister, no less a celebrity just now than the coming mistress of the white house. Within this wedding the tiny daughter and son of Mrs. Rounsavall Tebbis will be ring and cushion.

Wedding Is Sequel to College Romance

The pretty wedding service in the Columbus Street Baptist church yesterday afternoon which united Clarence M. Managan of Lake Charles, La., and Miss Bonnie Bell Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Hicks, 1223 Morrow street, formed the culmination of another of the many romances which have had their beginning in student days at Baylor University.

Mr. Managan, who is the son of W. H. Managan of the Krause & Managan Lumber company of Lake Charles, was graduated from Baylor in June of this year. Miss Hicks after graduation from Waco High School, also was a student of Baylor.

Following the ceremony at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, the young couple went immediately to the railroad station and departed on their honeymoon.

The bride, who entered the church with the groom for the wedding ceremony, was attended by her sister, Miss Trilla Hicks, as maid of honor, with Misses Mary Kate Green, Caledonia Sledge, Bertha Oliver and Bessie Long as bridesmaids. The groom was attended by his brother, Ralph Managan, who is a student at Baylor, and Louis Metz, Dan Hightower, W. H. Payne and Boyd Alexander. Joseph M. Evans of Baylor played the organ and Lloyd Barnard sang. Misses Ermadine Dunham and Virginia Shumway were flower girls, and Frank Groner Jr. ring bearer.

Mr. Managan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Managan of Lake Charles, with the sister, Lucille Managan, and a cousin, Miss Gladys Walsh, came over for the wedding, returning today.

Past That.

A clergyman had taught an old man in his congregation to read and found him an apt pupil. Calling at his house some time after he found only the wife at home.

"How's John?" asked he.

"He is well, thank you," said the wife.

"How does he get on with his reading?"

"Nicely, sir."

"Ah, I suppose he can read his Bible comfortably now."

Scrimmage at Hi Tunes Eleven for Saturday's Contest

Coach Tyson sent his great Hi football team to sharp scrimmage yesterday, to round them off for the game Saturday with Cameron. The latter team, while beaten, it is said, by both San Antonio and Austin, has an excellent eleven, and one that held the Austin team to a 26 to 6 score. The fact that they scored on Austin in the big game on November 5, it is said they have developed a heavy, lineplunging scoring machine. None of the eleven met so far by Waco. Hi has been able to gain through, over instances when two or three consecutive passes served to make distances.

"Heinie" Pinzing was "out" yesterday, and followers of the team are in hopes he will turn loose some of his speed and power into the game for the rest of the season. This youngster is said to be a great interference runner, a good spiller and a good receiver of passes; he has speed and weight and above and above the points that make a good football player. He announced yesterday he was out for somebody's job, and if he is that somebody may have to hustle.

In the meantime Hi followers will watch the Saturday game with interest, as a comparison of the scores will serve to form some idea of the relative strength of the Austin and Waco teams.

It was said yesterday that a new aspirant for championship honors has arisen in Palestine. This little city has turned out a machine that is reported to have beaten Houston and to have games scheduled with Oak Cliff and North Fort Worth. If Waco beats Austin and Palestine, it will be a fair championship game between the two teams. Negotiations will be opened, it is said, looking to this end should the local boys beat the Capital City aspirants.

The Fort Worth team were unqualified in saying that Waco could beat either North Fort Worth or Oak Cliff, but a better way would be for Palestine to defeat the best one and then for Waco to meet Palestine, or the team that beat her. This would eliminate the necessity of meeting Houston, providing Palestine has beaten the Houston City aggregation.

The aspiration of Marlin for championship honors, announced for championship play, is treated as a pugilistic challenge. "Go on and beat somebody before you come challenging me."

Baylor Team Being Groomed for Game With Sewanee Nov. 8

In spite of several cripples on the Baylor squad, at least fifty men were present yesterday, and Coaches Mosley and Bales sent them through a hard afternoon's workout, although no scrimmage more than a few minutes was indulged in. It is very probable no time will be used in perfecting plays.

One thing is certain in reference to the Baylor-Sewanee game to be played at the Cotton Palace November 8. The Waco team will enter the game almost at

Austin College Beats S. M. U. 21 to 0

Special to the Morning News.

Dallas, Oct. 27.—By a score of 21 to 0, Austin College walloped Southern Methodist University Wednesday afternoon before a State Fair crowd. Long end runs by the Austin College backfield and line Southern Methodist University resorted to kicking during the entire game and constantly on the defensive. Austin College showed improvement over their first game at the Fair.

The line-up:

Romance Overtakes Two Aged Negroes

Kid Cupid pays no attention to race, age, color or condition in life, as was demonstrated in a marriage ceremony performed yesterday by Justice of the Peace J. F. Padgett at the county courthouse.

Aunt Sophia Anderson, an old negro woman who says she is over 90 years of age, and who is quite a hundred years old, and Abe Anderson, a negro upwards of 75 years of age, were the contracting parties.

But don't imagine from the ages of the bride and groom that the match was devoid of romance. For he it from such. Abe has been boarding at Aunt Sophia's for several months. The two of them went out in the Chalk Bluff neighborhood more than a week ago to pick cotton. He was found and brought into the county jail, and his case reported to the sanity board.

Enter Aunt Sophia as the rescuer. She saw all the necessary papers, effected Abe's release, he got the license, and Judge Padgett did the marrying, and And so they were married.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

The Saddest Blow of All.

Young housewives obliged to practice strict economy will sympathize with the sad experience of a Washington woman. When her husband returned home one evening he found her dissolved in tears, and careful questioning elicited the reason for her grief.

"Dan," said she, "every day this week I have stopped to look at a perfect love of a hat in Mrs. Louise's window. Such a hat, Dan, such a beautiful hat. But the price—well, I wanted it in the worst way but just couldn't afford to buy it."

"Well, dear," began the husband recklessly, "we might manage to—"

"Thank you, Dan," interrupted the wife. "But there isn't any 'might' about it. I paid the cook this noon and what do you think? She marched right down here and bought that hat."—Kansas City Star.

MEXICAN SOLDIER ALMOST BRINGS ON A CLASH ON BRIDGE

FROM MATAMOROS END, AMERICAN OFFICERS ARE THREATENED — CARRANZA TROOPER GETS GUN AND POINTS IT, BUT DESISTS AND GOES BACK.

AMERICAN SHOT IN MEXICO

John Boone, Formerly United States Soldier, Now with Carranza, Wounded in the Market Place at Matamoros—No Complications Will Arise as Result of Affair.

By The Associated Press.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 27.—Mexican soldiers on the Mexican end of the international bridge and United States soldiers, customs inspectors and immigration inspectors on the American end of the bridge today nearly came to a clash when a Mexican soldier several times sighted his gun at the Americans and cursed them. Other Mexican soldiers of the guard disarmed this man and forced him inside the Mexican customs office. He escaped, however, several times and each time got possession of a gun, according to the Americans on the bridge. This continued for perhaps half an hour when a woman customs inspector at the American end of the bridge was sent home to give Americans full freedom in case of action. The cause of the trouble, seeing the Mexicans leave the bridge, jumped on a street car and went to Matamoros.

Probably no complications will arise as the result of the fatal shooting of John Boone, an American, who was wounded in the market place in Matamoros early today. According to residents of Matamoros, Boone had been serving in the Carranza army and is said to have been formerly an American soldier. He is said to have engaged in conversation with a Mexican soldier in the market place when the trouble arose and the Mexican shot him with a pistol. He was attended by the surgeon in charge of the military hospital in Matamoros. The case is being investigated by United States Consul J. H. Johnson.

No Mexicans to Hospital.

Carranza Consul Garza today denied positively that any Mexicans wounded in fighting at Ojo del Agua with American soldiers on American side of the border last Thursday had been brought to Matamoros for medical attention. Reports have been persistent on this side however, that Mexicans said to have been wounded in the fighting at Ojo del Agua had been taken to Reynosa, Mexico. One report said the number was nine, but it is impossible of confirmation.

The Twenty-eighth infantry which reached the border Monday morning has been sent to stations along the Rio Grande between Progreso, 35 miles west of here and LaGrulla, Texas, seventy miles west of here, replacing companies of the fourth, in country which had been transferred to stations along the railroad between Brownsville and San Benito, in the vicinity of the recent attacks by bandits. With all stations greatly strengthened officers now believe they have the situation in better shape to act quickly and effectively against bandits. Searching for bandits in the brush so far apparently has yielded the army nothing, as the work is much like looking for the proverbial "needle in the hay stack."

Three street fights occurred today between Americans and Mexicans during the night. The first was between Moore, killed Sunday night in a fight near Brownsville, and whose body was sent to Crystal, Ind. The fights are said to have been the result of bad feeling in these particular cases.

Time Tables in the Newspapers Best Say Traffic Men

By The Associated Press.

It was decided that the custom of advertising the arrival and departure of trains should be revived.

Gas In The Stomach Is Dangerous

A Warning of Acid Indigestion. Prompt Use of Magnesia Stops All Sourness and Pain.

Sufferers from indigestion or dyspepsia should remember that the presence of gas or wind in the stomach is a dangerous condition. It interferes with the normal functions of the stomach, hampers the action of the heart, and charges the blood stream with deadly poisons, which in time must ruin the health. Physicians say that to quickly dispel a dangerous accumulation of wind in the stomach and to stop the food fermentation which creates the gas, the acid in the stomach must be neutralized and that for this purpose there is nothing quite so good as a powerful dose of pure magnesia taken in a little water immediately after meals.

This instantly neutralizes the acid, thus stopping fermentation and the formation of gas, and enables the inflamed, distended stomach to proceed with its work under normal conditions. Distended magnesia is obtainable in powder or tablet form from any druggist; but as there are many different forms of magnesia it is important that the bisulphate of magnesia which physicians prescribe should be distinctly asked for.

Graphic Story F-4 Tragedy Tells of Fight for Life

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 27.—A graphic story of the battle for life waged in vain 300 feet beneath the surface of the sea by the twenty-one men who perished in the navy's submarine F-4 last March at Honolulu is told in the final report on the loss of the vessel submitted by a board of inquiry, headed by Rear Admiral Boush and made public today. Examination of the wrecked hull after it had been brought to the surface and placed in drydock convinced the board that the disaster was caused by a leak resulting from a corroded battery lining and the failure of the boat through poor diving qualities to respond promptly to the rudder change which should have returned her to the surface.

Discarding the theory once advanced that chlorine gas brought quick relief in death to the crew, the board from signs within the rusted and battered bulk pieces out in its report a dramatic account of how the doomed men strove desperately to save themselves as their vessel sank to the bottom. Fifteen met death in the engine room where they sought refuge at the last, six died at their posts in the flooded forward compartment. All members of the ship's company are absolved from blame in this tribute:

Not Due to Carelessness.

"From the facts established we find that the accident resulting in disaster to the U. S. S. Submarine F-4 on March 25, 1915, was not due to carelessness, negligence or inefficiency on the part of the officers or men of the vessel and that, furthermore, the personnel remained at their respective stations until all effective means employed to avert the disaster impending had failed and thereafter sought refuge."

After a review of all the facts established in the investigation the board states its conception of the disaster as follows:

"Of the primary cause of the disaster was the corrosion of the lead lining of the battery tank and in consequence of certain rivets in the port wall of the forward battery steel tank;

"The secondary causes were: (a) The poor diving qualities of the vessel; and (b) the consequent failure of the vessel promptly to respond to measures taken to bring her to the surface."

"Unknown to the commanding officer, the vessel acquired some negative buoyancy forward of the center of gravity, through the leaky rivet in the port wall of the forward battery steel tank."

"Water accumulated in the forward battery lead-lined tank and through corroded slop tanks, overflowed into the battery cells—in contact with sulphuric acid in the cells generating chloride gas."

"The vessel developed a strong tendency to dive."

"Upon these intimations of danger there followed:

Continued to Descend.

"Up-rudder, but due to the poor diving qualities of the vessel, aggravated by the additional quantity of water taken in through the port wall of the forward battery tank, vessel did not respond but in fact continued to descend, and downward momentum gained before propellers were stopped."

"Automatic blow was tripped and blow valve on auxiliary tank opened."

"In the endeavor to check the downward momentum, maneuvering with propellers probably took place."

"The appreciable length of time requisite for air to build up in ballast tanks for the expulsion of sufficient quantities of water resulted in vessel reaching crushing depths."

"Seams of the vessel began to open and—probably through open torpedo tubes and seams—water entered the vessel. A condition of positive buoyancy was never attained."

"There followed actual disaster. 'Vessel began filling with water. Personnel abandoned stations and many sought refuge in the engine room, closing the door."

"Under great pressure, engine room bulkhead failed suddenly, leaving vessel on bottom, completely flooded."

"From its examination of the valves of the automatic device which was set to expel water from the vessel's ballast tanks at a depth of 100 feet as required sufficient quantity) electric arc struck and therefore, "An explosion occurred. "A battery fire of limited extent occurred in the forward battery positive cell, but nevertheless this battery fire was not the primary cause of the disaster."

Leak in Forward Battery.

"Leak found in port wall of forward battery steel tank; probable leaks around certain other corroded rivets in both battery tanks; probable leak through the open torpedo tubes; otherwise, no positive evidence was as to where leakage occurred; and, therefore,

"The vessel began to leak through open seams when, or before the depth of 200 feet was reached and at such a rate that the weight of water coming in was greater than the weight of water being expelled from the ballast tanks; and, furthermore,

Slop tanks found corroded; suction pipe leading to bottom of forward battery lead-lined tank found plugged with marine glue and therefore these conditions were contributory to the disaster."

The report continues:

"No evidence found that the F-4 had poor diving qualities prior to her docking in February, 1915, when experimental propellers were fitted—the only alteration made, and therefore,

"The experimental propellers so substituted probably so affected the influence of the after-diving rudders as to make it difficult for the diving rudder man to control the vessel; and, furthermore,

"The poor diving qualities consequent upon this change of propellers were the secondary cause of the disaster."

"Air valves found open on forward main, middle main, auxiliary and after main ballast tanks, and, therefore,

"In the endeavor to check the vessel's downward momentum the interval of time requisite for the expulsion of sufficient quantities of water, permitted the vessel to reach crushing depths."

Order Injunction in the Issuance of Causeway Bonds

By The Associated Press.

San Antonio, Oct. 27.—The fourth court of civil appeals today ordered District Judge F. G. Chambliss of the Thirty-sixth district to grant an injunction to prevent the issuance of the $300,000 in bonds for the construction of the Rockport-Lamar causeway in Aransas county. The higher court at the same time construed the special act of the legislature permitting bonds to be issued for roads "or in aid thereof" as not to mean that such bonds may be used for causeways or bridges.

Giant Biplane for Use in U. S. Navy

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Secretary Daniels signed an order today for the construction at the navy yard here of a giant biplane for the navy, the first aircraft to be built at any government establishment. Plans for the machine were prepared by navy engineers under the direction of Naval Constructor H. C. Richardson, a qualified air pilot, who has been at work on the design for months.

The craft will have a carrying capacity of 2,200 pounds and will make from fifty to eighty miles an hour for a period of seven hours without stop. The machine will almost equal in size the great French battle airships recently constructed and it is understood the navy ordnance bureau is at work on the design of a three-inch gun with which it can be equipped.

Of course, if one prefers his coffee, and is willing to put up with these "comforters," why—keep right on!

MARVELOUS CLOCK FOR COTTON PALACE

INSTRUMENT VALUED AT $150,000
WILL BE EXHIBITED AND EX-PLAINED AT EXPOSITION.

HAS FIFTEEN THOUSAND PARTS

Twenty-six Distinct Movements Shown.
Construction Task of Thirty Years.

The most valuable clock in the world will be one of the attractions at the Cotton Palace, The Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C., has placed a valuation of $150,000 upon it. There is no other clock in the world just like it. It is of such educational value that every student in the public schools and the teachers are urged to go and see it.

Work on the construction of the clock was commenced in 1865, but it was not completed until 1895, thirty years later. The clock is encased in a massive quartered oak case and stands 10 feet high, 10 feet wide and 3 feet deep. It weighs complete, 6,000 pounds.

It consists of fifteen thousand parts and displays twenty-six separate and distinct mechanical and astronomical movements, all ingeniously presented by one weight, to the amazement of experts who have seen it.

The movements are so constructed that the hands and indicators all move forward at once at the end of every half minute only, with the exception of the striking attachment.

The clock shows four different kinds of time systems—mean time, solar time, sidereal (or sidereal) time, decimal time (the latest).

Mean time is the universally accepted system of the world. All our clocks and time systems are made upon this basis. 12 o'clock on tomorrow falls on the same second it did today.

Solar time, or sun time is too irregular for common use, as it loses and gains during the year—as much as thirty-five minutes, and for this reason no timepieces are set by it.

Four times in the year only is sun time the same as our mean time, viz: April 15, June 15, September 1 and December 24 and on all other days is either faster or slower than our mean or common time.

Sidereal time or star time advances daily on mean time three minutes, 56 and one-half seconds, and as each and every day is that much longer than mean time, the year calculated by that system has always the same number of days, 365 complete, where mean time has 365 days, 5 hours, 9 minutes and 9 seconds, necessitating a leap year, or one day more in every four years to make it correct.

Sidereal time is absolutely accurate as far as calculation of time is concerned, as it has not varied one-half a second since used in astronomy.

The decimal system is a new idea, considered more practical than our mean time, as it obliterates the worrisome p. m. and a. m., so absolutely necessary in our system. By this system we must calculate 100 seconds to the minute instead of 60, 100 minutes to the hour instead of 60, 100 hours to the day instead of 24, 100 days to the month instead of 30, 100 months to the year instead of 12.

It has been inaugurated in many cities in France and as the metric system is far superior to our system of measurement, this system when once established all over the world will soon demonstrate its superiority over the present system, which is an antiquated system. The a. m. and p. m. would be entirely dropped, as the dial runs from 1 to 20.

Comparative Time of the World.

In the center of the clock are ten dials, showing comparatively the time in ten of the principal cities of the world. Thus: If it is 12 noon, New York, the dial representing Berlin will show 5:47 p. m. o'clock, etc.

On the right hand of the clock proper is a large globe, which represents the earth revolving on its own axis in 24 hours, from west to east. It has a hand placed which shows you the exact time at any place, and the present system, choose to look at it and shows the correct position of the earth to the sun.

On the left of the globe is another large globe, representing the heavens, the constellations or the "world of stars"; this also revolves in 24 hours, but from east to west, or the reverse of the earth. This globe runs on sidereal time instead of mean time, gaining 3 minutes and 56 seconds on the globe representing the earth. So it makes 365 complete revolutions in a year, where the earth makes 365 1/4 days. All these parts are minutely propelled to their exact time.

The Calendarium.

The lower part of the clock represents a complete automatic calendar. It shows at all times the day, date, month and year, changing automatically at just the proper date, and at the end of the month, the new day and date, and at the end of the year the change takes place and the new year begins. The calendarium also is designated at the proper time, when February 29 follows February 28, and the 13th following date will automatically change to March 1.

On either side of the calendar are shown the following chronological cycles, also minutely displayed and by the fine mechanism changed at the proper time automatically by the clock-works: There are the golden number or Lunar cycle, the Epact, the Roman Indiction, the Solar cycle, the Dominical letter and the movable holidays, such as Easter.

As an index to many not familiar with these cycles the following will be of interest, as we learn that only one out of a thousand are acquainted with these facts.

The golden number or Lunar cycle consists of a period of nineteen years. For instance, if the moon would appear on January 1, it would not occur again on that same day until a lapse of nineteen years, when the full moon would again occur on the same day in the same consecutive order as it did nineteen years before. The eclipses of the moon would all occur in some relation as nineteen years before, and the recurring changes are called the Lunar cycle or golden number.

The Epact shows the age of the moon on entering the new year.

Roman Indiction.

The Roman Indiction was devised by Constantine, a Roman emperor, to assess his constituents. This was to recur once every fifteen years. Being obsolete, it is not used.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness.

Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

Enjoins Collection of Taxes on Land Taken in the City

Temporary Writs Granted by Judge Clark to C. H. Higginson and W. D. Lacy—Amount That May Be Affected Between $35,000 and $40,000.

Temporary injunctions against the collection of taxes by the city on land taken into the city after the present charter was adopted were granted by Judge Erwin J. Clark in the Seventy-fourth district court yesterday to C. H. Higginson and W. D. Lacy. Attorneys for Higginson and Lacy contend that the land was taken into the city less than a year after the charter was adopted, and that the law provides that the charter cannot be amended inside two years, and that the action was an amendment, and, as such, unconstitutional.

The land directly involved consists of 100 acres, belonging to Mr. Higginson and 40 acres belonging to Mr. Lacy. While the injunction only affects these two tracts, the total amount of taxes on land in a similar situation reaches to between $35,000 and $40,000, according to R. L. Strubling, city tax collector.

As it now stands, persons owning property taken into the city within a year after a charter was adopted, with the exception of Mr. Lacy and Mr. Higginson, will have to pay the taxes or take the chances of having them declared delinquent in case the decision is in favor of the city. If the taxes are paid and the court afterwards decides the action of annexing the land unconstitutional, the money will, of course, be refunded by the city.

It would work a hardship on many of the owners of this class of property if the taxes were added," said Mr. Strubling last night. "I would suggest that all persons affected pay their taxes and if it is afterwards decided that the tax is illegal, the money will be at once refunded."

Judge Clark said last night that he did not know just when the case would come up to be tried.

En Route to Waco A. F. Adams in Katy Holdup in Oklahoma

A. F. Adams of Kansas City, vice president of the Theodore Gary investment company of that city, arrived in Waco yesterday afternoon and will spend several days here on matters connected with the handling of the bonds of the Texas Telephone company. As has been previously mentioned in this paper, the Gary investment company has purchased the Texas company's bonds and will market them to investors.

Mr. Adams has visited Waco a number of times during the past year and has many friends and acquaintances here. It was through his regard for President J. B. Earle and Vice President Ben C. Hyde of the telephone company that the investment company decided to interest itself in the telephone company's securities, which were bought, however, only after a rigid investigation of the company's affairs and the present and likely future conditions of this territory. Mr. Adams is a man of considerable importance in the independent telephone field, an expert on operating and financing matters and a director of the National Independent Telephone association, of which Mr. Earle also is a director.

The Theodore Gary investment company is probably the largest dealer in independent telephone securities in the country and also owns and operates several large telephone properties in Kansas and Missouri.

Mr. Adams was a passenger on the Katy limited, which was held up by train robbers in Oklahoma yesterday morning.

Railroads Interested in Cotton Palace

The railroads operating in Texas are greatly interested in the Cotton Palace. The general passenger agents seem to be of the opinion that the attendance this year is going to break all previous records. These officials are doing their very best to popularize the Cotton Palace in every town along their lines. They look upon the Cotton Palace as one of the big solid successful institutions in Texas. Recognizing it as a state institution, they are giving it to the publicity to which an exposition of that magnitude is entitled.

D. J. Price is the general passenger agent of the International & Great Northern road. He is a hustler and keeps in close touch with everything worth while in the state. The Cotton Palace looks exceedingly good to him. He has a mighty high opinion of its present and its future. He thinks that the various splendid features should be seen by everybody because it will make the wiser and happier. Yesterday he telegraphed J. W. Byars, the well known city agent of the cotton palace, to rush him a generous supply of the Cotton Palace official programs. He said he wanted to have enough circulars printed describing the attractions of the city square with the railroad officials of Texas feeling this way toward the Cotton Palace, it cannot help but be an unprecedented success.

Argument Heard on Huckster Injunction

Argument on the motion to dissolve the injunction granted a number of hucksters against the city, was heard yesterday before Judge Erwin J. Clark in the Seventy-fourth district court. A decision is not expected for several days. The city commission passed an ordinance forbidding hucksters from standing their wagons on the city square after 9 o'clock in the morning for longer than 15 minutes at a time. The hucksters obtained a temporary injunction against the operation of this ordinance.

has no significance except to calculate certain historical facts connected with the Indiction.

The Solar cycle is a series of twenty-eight years. For instance, The 1st day of January and the consecutive dates of the year, follow on certain days of the week; these same dates will never again follow on the same days and in the same order until a lapse of each year having a balance of one or two days over the full fifty-two weeks; this will illustrate the solar cycle, which is also automatically registered by the clock.

The Dominical letter indicates the date on which the first Sunday of the year falls. For instance, if the first Sunday in the year fell on January 1, the Dominical letter for that year would be A, if the first Sunday fell on January 2, the Dominical letter would be B, etc., up to G. This year January 5th was the first Sunday; thus the Dominical letter for 1915 is E. In leap years, two letters show, until February 28th, when the last one is used after February 29, to the close of the year.

Movable holiday, Easter, as all know, falls on a different date each year. This date is calculated thus: Easter, the first Sunday after the first full moon occurring after spring equinox (March 21). Last year (1914) the first full moon occurring spring equinox was on March 1, April 19, and the following Sunday, April 12, was Easter; this year, the first full moon of spring was Tuesday, March 30, the Sunday after, April 5, as in above rule, thus became Easter. All the changes just mentioned are automatically made on the clock at the right time.

For three hundred years in advance, these cycles are all accurately figured out, of the thousands of little wheels and bars, made to show these changes at the exact moment, set in motion by the finger, and continuing to show these changes for generations to come, to all who visit this wonderful clock.

The upper right hand dial represents correctly at all times the time when the sun rises and sets and the interim showing the length of the day for the entire year.

The Moon's Phases.

The moon is illustrated just above this, by a globe, half of which is bright and half dark. As the moon grows a little streak of the bright side of the revolving globe appear; the next day more and so on until at exactly the right minute of the right day the full moon appears and announces "full moon." Then the bright side diminishes daily until the next new moon again. This orb revolves on its own axis once in 29 1/2 days.

Opposite the moon is the barometer, showing accurately the weather indications, of course, this is in no way connected with the gearing of the clock.

Just below the barometer is the face representing the planet Jupiter. This is the part that was made and remade with tireless patience, for thirty long years by the inventor. He made this part over and over at least one hundred times until correct. It shows the heliocentric movements of the six big planets around the sun. The sun in the center turns on its axis once in 25 1/2 days. Then Mercury revolving around the sun once in 87 days is shown. Then Venus making the cycle in 225 days. Then our earth which makes the cycle in 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes and 9 seconds. Mars comes next. He takes 687 days to make the cycle. Jupiter follows by making the cycle in 4332 days, or 11 3/4 years. Saturn takes 10,759 days or 29 1/2 years to complete the cycle. All these planets are shown in their relative movements to each other and with wonderful precision make their courses in the prescribed time. The accurate working of this part of the clock is interesting enough, if others were omitted.

In addition to the above, on the same dial are the twelve signs of the zodiac, also divided into 360 degrees. At all times the hand designed to show the position of the sun in the signs of the Zodiac.

Striking Apparatus.

We mention last the striking apparatus but it is not the least interesting. In announcing the first quarter of the hour, a small arm appears and strikes the anvil one time. Then, on the half-hour a youth appears and strikes twice on the bell. The third quarter a figure appears representing manhood and strikes the bell three, and on the complete hour Old Age appears and strikes the four completed quarters. At all these stages of the hour the guardian angel figures above them, protects them by an outstretched hand, except at the appearance of old age, when the hour is complete, the angel remains silent, signifying that time has run its course. At the completion of 10 last quarter struck, another figure holding an hour glass reverses the same for the new hour, and the figure representing death, announces the number of the hour. At 12 o'clock the twelve figures representing the twelve apostles each appear and bow in reverence to their Master, except Judas Iscariot, who fails to show respect as the others, and the cock then crows thrice. At the end of each year a bugler appears, announcing the new year. While the Apostles take their positions an automatic music box plays a sacred hymn.

To appreciate the full value of this wonderful work it must be seen, and the proper and necessary arrangement, will be pleased to give a more elaborate lecture to those interested, explaining many things, too numerous to mention in this article.

Elkins-Bernhard Marriage.

Mr. Elkins-Bernhard, L. Bernhard was married at 8 o'clock last night at the county courthouse. Mr. Elkins' bride was from Johnson county. The newly-married couple will make their home at Colorado, Texas.

DALLAS ROAD OPEN TO TRAFFIC AGAIN

WORK ALMOST DONE

The Dallas road will be open to traffic this morning.

County Engineer R. J. Windrow announced last night that work had progressed far enough so that the road could be used all the way from Waco, through West, to the Hill county line. This makes a good auto road from here to Dallas, with the exception of a short stretch in Hill county.

There is still considerable work to be done on the road before it is completed, but it is all along the line of finishing and will not interfere with traffic in the least. For several months, travelers have had to make a long detour between here and West, but that will be no longer necessary.

Work is being pushed rapidly on all the roads of the new good road system and it is expected that they will all be ready for use by the opening of the Cotton Palace November 6.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

CLEANSSES THE LITTLE LIVER AND BOWELS AND THEY GET WELL QUICK.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat, give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels, no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

THEATRES

QUEEN.

Today Only—"The Flash of An Emerald."

World Film Corporation presents Robert Warwick in the photoplay, "The Flash of An Emerald."

The many admirers of this fine actor will have an opportunity of seeing him in a screen part that elicits another, and not often seen, side of his undoubted genius. As "Lucius Waldeck," he is "a social vulture preying on his friends and diverting suspicion by his gentlemanly graciousness." In other words he is a polished and insinuating villain. He steals a valuable emerald from a woman in a religious procession, chloroforms her, her maid and such child.

Later he passes himself off as a secret agent of the Russian revolutionists. He insinuates himself into the good graces of two ladies, to one of whom he presents the emerald. The lady is the daughter of the woman from whom he stole the jewel. Indirectly, this leads to his undoing, and he commits suicide.

The part is a great one and Mr. Warwick does it the fullest justice.

There is also a strong love interest in the photoplay which has the advantage of beautiful settings, careful direction and a strong supporting cast.

Friday and Saturday Julius Steiger in "The Master of the House."

He is bound to death by years of association with the wife he deems old-fashioned and settled.

A "Social Secretary," young and beautiful, comes to the house. The father, the master of the house in every sense of the word, is infatuated with the Secretary's description of life in the city where one remains young even at four score years.

Many conversations occur between the man and the Secretary and at one day, in a calm determined manner, he calls in his wife and frankly tells her that he is tired of her and that he is going away to the city with the younger and prettier woman.

Time passes and the master of the house sees the other side of the Secretary. Her family is a lot of parasites who live on him. Budding geniuses, whose only claim to civilization is the bait, they take every Saturday and for diversion strike off a tune on the piano and touch him for sustenance.

The man, broken in health, his spirit revolting against present conditions, feels a longing away down in his heart for his old-fashioned wife and the three children and the old home that is a home.

In a frenzied burst of anger he strikes her, casts aside the woman and the unpleasant associations with her, and older, wiser and penitent he returns to the wife and finds where he now knows so many happy years, before his wild and frenzied flight, have been spent.

HIPPODROME.

"The Dust of Egypt" playing at the Hippodrome today fits into a new classification of comedy, the serious comedy. There are genuinely humorous situations brought about naturally through the interplay of the characters themselves, and acted with real artistry. This last quality, the acting of comedy as it should be done—the Vitaphone people made perfectly sure of when they selected Edith Storey for the role of an Egyptian Princess, who, through the potency of a drug administered long ago, awakens to the twentieth century scenes of London society.

Miss Storey has never done anything finer than this interpretation of an ancient beauty in modern surroundings. In every scene, in which she appears, she shows absolute mastery of the fine sure-fire comedy. Not once does she step outside the part. Always she suggests Cleopatra, but a Cleopatra of lighter hours, a Cleopatra whose brilliance is not marred by tragic happiness. From a love scene to the carefree society girl, to the wild delirium of a drug crazed woman Edith Storey is called upon to portray a wide range of emotions. It is a tribute to her ability that she has been able to accomplish this with such effectiveness.

Antonio Moreno, Hughie Mack, Cissy Fitzgerald and Naomi Childers have parts in "The Dust of Egypt." The picture will be shown here today only. The sets are fully up to the best blue Ribbon standard, supplying richness of scene, as well as depth. George Baker directed the picture, which is in six reels and is based on a story by Alan Campbell.

German War Pictures.

Those who have found it difficult, if not well-nigh impossible, to gain a conception of half the world at war will have a much easier task after they have seen the motion pictures taken along the firing lines in Europe by Edwin F. Weigle, staff photographer of the Chicago Tribune. As the war itself is without precedent, so are the pictures. Never before has the firing of 30-centimeter guns in actual warfare been depicted on the screen.

Never before, at least in this country, has the effect of a 1,000-pound shell been shown by the camera—a feat that Mr. Weigle performed by the use of a telephoto lens, which, like the 20-centimeter gun, has an effective range of eight miles or more. Never before have the scenes of actual battle, with soldiers falling on the firing line, been caught on the film. Never before has the attack of a fortified city been photographed during its progress. Never before has the awfulness of war been described in such a concrete way.

Mr. Weigle's pictures make the spectator a virtual eyewitness of many of the dramatic events of the war. Perhaps most dramatic of the scenes depicted are those connected with the recapture of Przemyśl by the Teutonic forces. The beginning of the attack, at a distance of eight miles from the forts, with the heavy artillery of the Germans playing havoc with the apparently impenetrable fortifications; infantry charging across the plains, with no time to pick up the dead and wounded; legions of helmeted warriors consoling themselves in the woods to avoid the eyes of scouting aviators; and then charging out to reinforce their comrades at a critical moment; and finally the entry of the victors into the hastily abandoned city, with scenes of devastation, wrought by the gigantic shells, on all sides—these are some of the views that make Mr. Weigle's pictures so spectacular.

Though the pictures show only one side of the war—the German side—they afford an idea of the magnitude of the conflict. Throughout, one is impressed with the equipment of the German armies and with the systematic way in which they are conducting their operations. Everything is done as if by clockwork, and the facilities for waging war are such as to stagger one whose knowledge of military operations has been gained solely from maneuvers in this country. One cannot but shudder at the thought of what would happen if the United States in its present condition of unpreparedness should suddenly find itself at war with such overwhelmingly superior forces.

Not all the scenes, however, were taken along the firing line. In fact, the majority of them were necessarily taken outside the zone of actual fighting. But these more peaceful scenes do not minimize the tragic and dramatic elements with which the incidents along the firing line are charged. It is in the hospitals, especially those of Vienna, removed from the scenes of carnage, that the most pathetic side of the war is revealed.

A remarkable feature of the pictures is their clearness. Details stand out so strikingly that one seems to have been transported to a position beside the photographer, amid the perils of combat.

Doubtless the Auditorium will be filled to overflowing during the stay of these war pictures.

NICKEL.

Edith Storey in "The Ruling Power."

Woman's suffrage, one of the really important topics of the day to all thinking people, a question yet to be decided in many minds, is so nicely worked into the latest Vitaphone Broadway star feature, "The Ruling Power," to be shown at the Nickel today, that to those who have been undecided it will remain no question henceforth. Edith Storey, one of Waco's favorites, plays a leading part along with an all star cast, besides Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Normande R. Whitehouse, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. Thomas R. Wells and a few others who are some of this country's leading suffragettes and who are introduced in this picture which frankly proselytes for the "Votes for Women" cause. The author puts up a good argument by means of his story, but keeps the human interest of his story always to the fore.

Mr. Williams, a stern father and man of wealth, disinherits his son, Hugh, for marrying Rose, a seamstress. Twenty years later, although Rose is practically supporting her sick husband, their little store is taken from them and they are obliged to move, with Martha, their daughter, to the tenement district. Here follows a bitter fight against the power of evil and poverty. Hugh dies and Mr. Williams, now a politician—to aid his finances—meets and takes a liking to Martha. Still bitter against Rose, he offers to adopt the child, but Martha refuses to leave Rose. Steve, an East Side "sport," makes trouble for Rose and her daughter, and in desperation Rose goes to Mr. Williams for aid in suppressing the dance halls and "gardens." He refuses and she openly denounces him, shows him that if women had the vote in her state, they could clean up such places. Realizing the truth of what she says, Williams lends his influence to women's suffrage.

What follows is so very interesting that to tell it might spoil the play—so see it at the Nickel today.

ORPHEUM.

"The Shepherd of the Hills."

Occasionally some play strikes a note that rings out clear and true in the midst of the commonplace and impresses its auditor with the thought that it was written not for gain, not for pastime, but because some man had something to say to other men and he took this means of expression.

"The Shepherd of the Hills," Harold Bell Wright's dramatization of his novel of the same name, is this kind of a play. Mr. Wright had felt within his soul the peace and beauty of the hills and he wished to set down their meaning before him. He made a play that in plot is compelling, one that never fails in sincerity. The people who move in it are so human that the auditor will pick them out for like and dislike as if he really knew them.

There is the shepherd, the man who came to the hills to learn, and remained to teach; Old Mat, who cherished the memory of a wrong that could never be righted; Young Matt, a Hercules of heart and soul equalled the strength of his body; Sammy Lane, bright and buoyant with the youth of the hill country, and the other quaint characters that enliven the play with humor.

The scene of the play is in the high hills of the Ozark mountains. The mists of the valleys, the glories of the sunsets, the magnificent vistas from the summits have been brought out by the wonderful ingenuity of the scenic artist and electrician's craft. It is the spirit of the land that Mr. Wright has caught that makes the play one that is unique and one that will stand in a field of its own.

The enormous popularity of the Harold Bell Wright novels indicates that the engagement of this, his first play, will prove a greater popular success with patrons of this house than it did on its initial appearance.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

By The Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 27.—The cotton market was somewhat less active today and fluctuations were irregular, with prices ranging between 12.07 and 12.25 for January, which closed at 12.19. The general list closed steady, net 2 points lower to 3 higher than the previous day.

Cables were a little better than due, but there appeared to be some over-night selling around the local market and after opening 3 points lower to 7 points higher the market soon eased off to a net loss of some 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 points. The market was quiet and local pressure. This decline carried December contracts off to the 11.96 and March to 12.27, or within 2 points of the lowest level reached, but offerings then diminished and prices turned steadier.

Private cables reporting quiet, steady market in Liverpool were considered an indication that yesterday's sharp break had failed to promote increased spot of cotton from the south and there was active covering as well as considerable support from some of the older bulls. December contracts sold up to 12.13, while March touched 12.45 and May 12.57 during the early afternoon, or about 5 to 10 points net higher.

Favorable weather reports and rumors that some of the southern states were advising spot holders to turn loose their cotton seemed partly responsible for renewed liquidation at the advance, while sentiment was almost influenced by reports of a further decline in sterling exchange, or unfavorable export predictions and prices broke back under last night's closing figures.

The market later steadied up again on denials of any important weakness in the southern spot situation, with January and later deliveries showing net gains of from 3 to 5 points at the close. December was relatively easy during the entire day under scattering liquidation.

Free of duty. As an immediate effect prices here began to break and the lowest figures of the season were current at about the time definite advice were received purporting to show the views of a majority of the members of the Canadian cabinet.

Forecasts of enlarged receipts in the southwest next week did a good deal to add to the discouragement of the wheat bulls and so also did apparently unfounded rumors that Italy had cancelled the purchase of as much as 10,000,000 bushels. Something of a rally ensued at the close on evidence that Italy took a brief influence and were soon offset by the excellent weather.

Cuts acted on the basis of sympathy with other grains. Trade was small.

Provisions rallied in consequence of buying on the part of the packers. The market earlier was depressed owing to declines in the prices of hogs.

WHEAT

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Fluctuations that two-thirds of the Canadian parliament favored the annulment of the duty on wheat seems to have had little effect today in bringing about lower prices here. The market finished nervous 3/4 c down, with December at 92 1/2 c, May at 91 1/2 c, and July at 90 1/2 c. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 20 cents higher.

For half an hour or more at the start it was a rapidly shifting struggle between the bulls and bears in wheat, but during the day the bears gained almost entire control. Traders here did not grasp at first the possible significance of an unusual display of strength at Winnipeg. Later the explanation came that gossip pointed more and more to the likelihood of Canadian government action which would mean large shipments to the United States.

New York, Oct. 27.—Cotton seed oil was firm on covering of shorts and support from outside longs, together with the late strength in hard cotton houses and more to the likelihood of Canadian government action which would mean large shipments to the United States.

BRAZOS COMMITTEE TO MEET AT HOUSTON TO CONTINUE WORK OF DISTRICT NURSE

SECRETARY AND SUBCOMMITTEES WILL BE SELECTED AND PLANS LAID NOV. 5.

MASS MEETING AT PUBLIC LIBRARY DECIDES TO RAISE NECESSARY FUNDS.

W. W. SELEY RETURNS FROM TRIP

ILLUSTRATED LECTURES AT C. P.

Valley Towns Are Enthusiastic Over Prospect for Flood Prevention, Reclamation and Navigation.

Assistant State Health Officer Will Come to Waco—Miss Susie Jones Chairman Finance Committee.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement association recently organized at Bryan will be held in Houston Nov. 5 and 6, during the Louisiana-Texas Inland Waterways congress, was the announcement made yesterday by Col. W. W. Seley, president of the association, upon his return from a trip down the river, on which he conferred with several other members of the executive committee. The most important business of the executive committee will be selecting of subcommittees, electing a permanent secretary, and outlining the plan for the immediate activities of the association.

Colonel Seley left Waco several days ago, joining at Rockport a party composed of Col. C. S. Riche, United States army engineer, representative of Port Aransas through the Seaboard and Gulf Steamship company. The party made the trip from Freeport to Port Aransas through the interoceanic canal on the steam yacht Colonel, returning to Galveston on the government dredge boat which has been keeping the sand bars clear from the Brazos between its mouth and Old Washington. Since the Galveston storm the dredge boat has been transferred to clear away the sandbars left about the island.

While at Port Aransas the party visited Corpus Christi upon the invitation of the board of trade and the mayor of that city, where they were well entertained. The government work, made Corpus Christi a real seaport, said Mr. Seley, twenty-five feet of water being available in the harbor there.

The interest shown at every city along the Brazos visited by him in his trip augurs well for the success of the association's program, said Mr. Seley yesterday. At Navasota, where he stopped on his return trip, the influential citizens propose that Grimes county shall take the lead in paying the per capita of the assessment that has been made for carrying on the work of the association, which includes immediate steps to minimize the damage from overflow land, and make the river navigable from Waco to the gulf. Plans are also being made in Brazos, Washington and Robertson counties to start the work at an early date.

Colonel Seley plans to begin at once the work of the association at Waco and McLennan county, which are looked to by the rest of the valley counties to take the lead.

Patrol Driver Hurt by Flying Rim From Patrol Wagon Tire

Patrol Driver Roy German received severe injuries about the head and face yesterday afternoon when he was struck by the heavy steel rim from one of the wheels of the patrol wagon, and which was blown off by the air pressure in the tires. The flying rim struck several of the ribs, and the left side of Mr. German's head, and some slivers of steel were driven into his left eye.

Mr. German had just finished putting a new casing on one of the wheels and was inflating the tire with the air hose from the pump in the J. C. Killgore garage on Franklin street. The big tires are supposed to be filled to a pressure of at least 100 pounds. Mr. German tested it and found it showed 85 pounds. He was replacing the hose on the valve to fill the tire to the required pressure when he saw the rim along the base of the casing spreading. He jumped back, but too late to escape the hurtling rim. The steel rims were old, and the one which blew out had been rusted almost in two, as was discovered by an examination of the fragments.

Mr. German will be laid up by the accident for several days.

As the result of a mass meeting at the public library yesterday afternoon in the interest of the district nurse work, called under the auspices of the City Federation of Women's clubs, City Federation of Missionary societies and the board of control of the public nurse work, it was voted to continue the work of Miss Laura Edwards, district nurse, throughout the winter months. Immediate steps will be taken to raise a fund necessary to pay her salary and provide such drugs, food and other necessities as she finds necessary in carrying on her work.

Miss Susie M. Jones was designated chairman of the financial committee, charged with the responsibility for raising the necessary funds, and she will, in consultation with the presidents of the two city federations, name such assistants as will be deemed necessary. A number of physicians and other professional business men, interested in the health of the city, attended the meeting, and Miss Jones will probably name a few men on the committee to assist in raising the funds to keep the work of the nurse going.

Excellent reports on the efficient work being done by the nurse were reported by various persons familiar with what she is doing and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that the work should be continued, by all means.

Mrs. E. M. Dotson was elected chairman of the meeting and Mrs. J. H. Hutcherson secretary, while the object of the meeting was stated by Dr. R. J. Alexander. There was considerable discussion as to the best means of proceeding to secure the funds, but the central financial committee was finally decided upon. Miss Jones announced that if there are any persons in the city who want to make a voluntary contribution without solicitation she will be glad to receive it.

Mrs. R. G. Patton read a letter from Mrs. Grace Engblad, supervising nurse of the Houston Foundation, asking that the nurse board of this city join in a movement to invite Miss Crandall, executive secretary of the National Organization of Public Health Nursing, to visit Waco during the latter half of November and December and the matter was referred for action to the executive board of the City Federation of Women's clubs, as the nurse board feels it has its hands full for the present.

Mrs. W. O. Wilkes announced that she has secured the consent of Dr. W. B. Collins, state health officer, to send Dr. Linthicum, assistant health officer, to the Cotton Palace for the purpose of delivering a series of illustrated lectures on public health, sanitation and the like. She invited the women to hear these lectures and ask their friends to do so.

Miss Jones will announce the full financial committee within a few days, after which the campaign for funds will be launched in earnest.

City Commission Will Meet Today

The regular weekly meeting of the city commission will be held at 9 o'clock this morning. The principal matter scheduled for discussion is the ordinance to allow Oakwood cemetery association to expend a portion of its permanent funds for maintenance purposes. An amendment, providing for the opening of a driveway through the Parklawn cemetery was suggested at the last meeting.

It is probable that Mrs. E. L. Darwin, representative of the state sanitary board, will appear before the commission and ask co-operation in her efforts to make all dairies and places where food is sold, absolutely sanitary.

COTTON PALACE NAVAL DISPLAY IS ASSURED

RECRUITING OFFICERS OF DISTRICT WILL PROVIDE INTERESTING ARTICLES.

Division Officers Examine Applicants for Naval Reserve and Active Service—Waco Is Praised.

More than fifty men were examined at the naval recruiting station here yesterday as the result of the visit of Lieutenant J. C. Cunningham of Dallas, in charge of all the recruiting stations in this district, and Dr. J. B. Bostick of Dallas, surgeon of the medical reserve corps U. S. N. Twenty-one of the applicants examined yesterday were former service men, many of whom will be enrolled in the naval reserve recently created by an act of congress. Others examined included applicants for enlistment who had failed to pass the preliminary examinations at the station here, as well as several who had been instructed how to remove disabilities which had prevented their acceptance on the first application. Many of these latter were passed by Dr. Bostick and will be sent direct to the naval training school at San Francisco.

The matter of placing a naval exhibit at the Cotton Palace this fall was taken up with Lieutenant Cunningham yesterday by Recruiting Officer Hair of the local station and Cotton Palace authorities. In addition to the exhibit expected direct from the department at Washington it was determined to arrange a co-operative exhibit of models, ensigns, colors, flags, big gun shells, etc., to be made up from articles contributed from their personal belongings by the many naval men on detached service in the recruiting stations in this section. Another recruiting officer will be sent down from the recruiting officer Hair, who will be in charge of the exhibit at the exposition. Lieutenant Cunningham and Dr. Bostick had high praise for the work of Petty Officer Hair in charge of the Waco recruiting station. From one of the "deadest" stations in the district before Mr. Hair took charge to the leader of all the sub-stations in the division in number of recruits and percentage of acceptances after the preliminary local examination by the recruiting officer in charge. Lieutenant Cunningham and Dr. Bostick returned to Dallas last night.
